

Cardinals Meet Doane College At 2:30 Today

Favored To Chalk Up
Third Successive
Victory

REGULARS START

By Paul Lange, '35
This should be another big scoring week for Omaha university's footballers when they meet Doane college of Crete at Western League park this afternoon at 2:30.

Doane does not bring an impressive record. The Tigers have won but one contest, that a 6 to 0 victory over Buena Vista of Storm Lake, Ia., the team that the Cardinals walloped 33 to 6 in 1931, and have lost to Nebraska Wesleyan, 18 to 9; Midland, 16 to 0; Hastings, 27 to 6; Tarkio, 20 to 0, and managed to hold Kearney Normal to a 6 to 6 tie.

Likely To Use Reserves
The invaders have a slight advantage in past history. The schools have met three times. The first tussle, in 1913, finds Doane taking the long end of a 13 to 10 count. After a long stretch, the elevens tangled in 1925, this time Omaha won, 6 to 0. But 1926 was a sad affair for the Tiger gridders routed the Cardinals, 73 to 0. The two outfits have not met since then.

Again, as in the Western Union contest, the 3-H coaches are likely to use reserve men most of the sixty minutes. The starting lineup however will probably see the old varsity squad of Leon Fouts and Elmer Ossian at ends; Howard and Norman Sorensen at tackles; Frank Hummel and Carl Johnson at guards; Lowell Fouts at center; Gene Hoover at quarterback; Larry Hall and Bill Prossley at halfbacks; and Leo Pearey at fullback.

Officials for the game are Knappe, referee; Stuelke, umpire; and Schmidt, head linesman.

Elect New Officers For Chemistry Club

The Chemistry Club, sponsored by Miss Nell Ward, elected officers last Friday. The following were elected: President, Stanley G. Kurz, '36. Vice President, Emery E. Hoisington, '36.

Secretary, Anna M. Thurston, '35. Reporter and publicity chairman, Gus Hershman, '37.

The votes for the executive officers were very close, but the reporter was elected unanimously.

According to Gus Hershman, publicity chairman, the purpose of the club is to promote the knowledge and understanding of chemistry among its members. Various experiments and scientific programs will be given during the year.

Betas Sponsor Speech By Stimson Sunday

"Some Aspects of the Political Situation in Europe," will be discussed by Dr. Claude W. Stimson in a lecture to be delivered at the Fontenelle Hotel on Sunday, November 19, under the sponsorship of the Beta Tau Kappa fraternity.

CALENDAR

Friday Nov. 17—Phi Delta Phi pledge dance in gymnasium.

Tuesday, Nov. 21—Sigma Tau Delta meeting.

Thursday, Nov. 23—Party for Y. W. C. A. girls at the "Y" at 7:30.

Saturday, Nov. 25—Sigma Chi Omicron pledge dance in gymnasium.

Cardinals, Chadron '11' Will Battle For Conference Honors

Eagles Dispose Of Bobcats 22-0; To Play Omaha Thanksgiving Day

That Municipal university and Chadron Normal will play for the N. I. A. A. championship at Omaha Thanksgiving Day was practically assured Armistice Day when the Eagles walloped Peru 22 to 0. Chadron plays Kearney on the Antelopes' field today.

The Eagles pack plenty of offensive punch, having scored 43 points

N. I. A. A. STANDING
	W.	L.	T.	Pct.	Pts. Op.
Chadron	2	0	0	1.000	43 7
Omaha	2	0	1	1.000	25 6
Wayne	1	1	1	.500	25 27
Peru	1	2	0	.333	13 35
Kearney	0	3	0	.000	0 31

in two conference games. Wayne was defeated 21 to 7 earlier in the season. Omaha tied Wayne 6-6 and trimmed Peru 13 to 0. Thus on a basis of comparative scores the Eagles and Cardinals appear evenly matched defensively while the out-state outfits' offensive has a slight edge on the Omahans.

The scores of the Omaha games with Wayne and Peru give no indication of the respective abilities of the teams. In both games the Cardinals outplayed their opponents and on several occasions blew scoring opportunities.

Thetas Hold Banquet On Founders' Day

The annual Theta Phi Delta Founder's Day banquet was held Wednesday night at the Terrace tea room. Seventy-five were present.

John Herzog, president of the alumni chapter, was toastmaster. Speakers included Dr. G. W. James, Prof. L. M. Bradfield, Merle Mennie, Robert Johnson, and Donald Ryan. The banquet was planned by the alumni chapter.

The Thetas will hold their next meeting at the home of Dan Macken, 5207 Pacific street.

Graduates Occupy Coaching Positions

Six graduates of the University of Omaha are at present coaching athletic teams in Iowa and Nebraska high schools. These men are prominent in their field, and, accordingly The Gateway, in future issues, will present sketches of these graduates.

The coaches are: Fred Schneider of Pilger, Nebr.; Russell Snygg of Long Pine, Nebr.; Benny Huff, of Blair, Nebr.; Carroll Sales of Missouri Valley, Ia.; and Paul Davis, Omaha South; Ernie Adams, Benson.

Student Council Gala Day Show Motion Tabled

Continue Discussion
Of Proposal At
Next Meeting

SEALOCK FAVORS

The Student Council at a meeting Wednesday noon again tabled a suggestion of President Woodrow Tietzsort that would permit the council to handle the annual Gala Day show. Discussion of the proposal will be continued at the December 6 meeting.

Tietzsort announced that President W. E. Sealock had expressed approval of the idea as he was not entirely satisfied with the way it has been handled in previous years.

Drop Year Book Plans

The council discussed various ways of handling the show, the division of profits, financial backing, censorship of acts, faculty co-operation, and the difficulties encountered in staging past shows.

Bill Wood, '34, chairman of the council committee on publishing a year book, said that the idea had been given up because of the opposition on the part of the administration.

Faculty Members Host To Examiners

Seven faculty members were hosts at luncheon for members of the State Board of Examiners, Friday noon, November 10, at the Green Garden Tea Room.

Hosts were: Dr. Sealock, Dr. Holt, Dr. Earl, Dr. James, Dr. Payne, Mr. Hosman, and Dr. West.

The State Board of Examiners inspects classes once each year. Those who visited Omaha University were: A. A. Reed, Head of the Extension Division at the University of Nebraska; B. E. McProud, Dean of Men at Wesleyan University; and Herbert L. Cushing, Secretary of the State Board of Examiners.

Twenty Compete In German Club Contest

The annual German club declamatory contest was held in the Joslyn Hall auditorium last night. Twenty students participated.

Selections presented were chiefly from the writings of Goethe. Lyrics predominated. Judges were Val Peter, publisher of the Omaha German Tribune; E. O. Hillman, a teacher in the local Lutheran schools, and Mrs. Moeller-Herms, Omaha music teacher.

Boy Scout Frat To Meet Monday Noon

E. G. Stowell, field executive of the Covered Wagon Area Boy Scout Council talked to the newly organized Boy Scout fraternity, at a meeting Monday noon, November 13. He told of the other national chapters.

There will be a meeting next Monday after which meetings will be held in the evenings.

Dr. Daniel E. Jenkins was the first president of Omaha university. He served until 1926.

Pamphlets Opposing A New Campus Backfire; Letters Favor Buildings!

Although the Citizens' Taxpayers' league, a local organization under the leadership of Peter Mehrens, issued pamphlets urging Omahans to write to Congressman E. R. Burke and ask him to oppose the plan for new buildings for Municipal university, letters favoring the project have outnumbered those against it, according to Burke.

Since the Citizens' Taxpayers' league pamphlets have been in circulation, Burke has received seven letters on the subject. Four have favored the new university and three have opposed.

World-Herald Urges Favorable Action On U Building Project

Declares Hard To Think Of a Better Investment For Federal Funds

Omaha's municipal university is asking the federal government to make a safe and sound investment in the cause of education," the World-Herald said in an editorial Friday, November 10.

"The investment is to be $807,000 for the building of the university," the editorial continued. "The university itself will invest $98,000. The government will get 70 percent of its investment back, at the rate of $32,000 a year which the university will pay as lessee, amortizing the debt in 35 years. The remaining 30 per cent will represent a federal grant to aid the great work of recovery in which it is engaged."

W. A. A. Will Hike To Camp Brewster Today

The W. A. A. plans an overnight hike to Camp Brewster Friday. About sixteen girls are going to the camp immediately after the game Friday afternoon. Hortense Geisler is in charge of the hike.

The women's two soccer teams play in Kountze park every Monday at 4 o'clock. Mary Brown and Honora Zwieger are captains. Mary Brown's squad won Monday's tussle, 6 to 5.

Recommends Support For Loan Application

A recommendation that the executive committee of the Chamber of Commerce give Municipal University its full support in the request for federal funds was made by the Education Committee of the Chamber at a meeting Tuesday noon.

Charles M. Baumgarten, professor of law at Creighton University, advanced the motion, which was seconded by Raymond Young, Omaha attorney. Dr. W. M. Barr is chairman of the education committee.

Junior Class Dance To Be Held In The Spring

The junior class will hold a dance sometime next spring, according to Duane Butler '35, president of the class. Tentative plans for the dance were arranged at a recent meeting of the class officers.

Advisory Board To Decide On Project Today

Dr. Sealock Finds No
Opposition Among
PWA Members

LAST OBSTACLE

The state public works advisory board at Fremont did not take up the application of the Municipal university of Omaha for federal aid at the meeting of the board Friday, Nov. 10, but the matter is scheduled to be introduced at today's meeting.

The failure of the board to bring up the new buildings project last Friday was positively not due to any unfavorable opinion of the board regarding the plan, according to Dr. Sealock, president of the university. The new buildings were not discussed, he said, because other business took too much time.

Dr. Sealock has talked to members of the board and has found no opposition to the university's plan to lease a new campus and new buildings by the federal government.

Wisconsin Building Project Hits Snag

Wisconsin university's proposal to build a new library with public works funds has been halted due to a provision in the state constitution which prevents going into debt, Dr. Harry Jerome '12, professor of economics at Wisconsin university, said in a letter to the Gateway received Wednesday.

Recent developments, however, may make it possible to evade this provision in the constitution, Dr. Jerome wrote. He enclosed clippings from the Wisconsin State Journal which indicated that the project will probably be approved.

Dr. Jerome expressed the hope that the Municipal university building project will be carried out successfully. He is the first graduate of Omaha university.

Shanghai U. President To Address Assembly

Dr. Herman Chen-on Liu, President of the University of Shanghai, China, will speak at assembly Monday morning, November 20, on conditions in China.

Dr. Chen-on Liu is a special representative of the Chinese Government, and Good-will delegate of the Chinese Chamber of Commerce. He is founder of the Anti-civil War League of China.

This convocation will take the place of assembly for next week.

Phi Delts To Hold Pledge Dance Tonite

The Phi Delta Psi pledge dance will be held tonight in the university gymnasium. Priesman's orchestra will play. Helen Henningson, president of the pledges, is in charge of arrangements. No stags will be allowed, according to an announcement from the dean's office.

There are five sororities and three fraternities at Municipal university.

APPRECIATE SUPPORT

STUDENTS at Municipal university appreciate the timely boost which the Omaha World-Herald gave the building project in the editorial columns of the Friday, November 10 issue.

At a time when the proposal was being attacked in some quarters as an additional burden for Omaha taxpayers, the World-Herald, which has led a fight for tax reduction in city, state, and national governments, characterizes the project as "a safe and sound investment in the cause of education."

Municipal university students are grateful for the friendly sentiments expressed in the editorial and sincerely hope that the new university will do its share to "make of Omaha a real center of higher education and professional training."

Apparently everybody approves of the university building project, but nobody does anything about it.

SHAME ON TEACHER

Teachers take revenge in boy's grades, the Cleveland board of education reports. They deduce this from the fact that boys make poorer grades in their courses, although they generally make higher scores in intelligence tests.

"The schools are set up in such a way that a premium is placed on conformity, and girls conform better than boys," the report concludes.

Although this report refers primarily to high schools, we think college men can find much in it to console and gratify their vanity. They may even want to leave this article on father's bureau a few days before report cards are mailed out. With this article up his sleeve any man can laugh his teacher in the face when she hands him an F minus.

This article may even (and we realize we are asking a lot) console the stern sex for the shabby way they are being treated in regard to a rest room or smoking room.

Colgate revises her curriculum and gets $120,000. Municipal university revises her curriculum and gets the raspberries.

Sometimes we think the Gateway is literature in a panic.

STUDENT FORUM

Objects To Not Allowing Stags At Student Dance

To The Editor:

It is rumored that the administration has decided that the ancient practice of allowing "stags" to attend our dances is taboo.

It is understood that we are to be taught the social graces but not to be allowed to follow current innovations. "Stag lines" are considered now, even in the society circles of New York, as quite "the thing."

While it is more than plain to me (therefore perfectly obvious to anyone) that regulations and restrictions of any affairs connected with university are very necessary it seems that restricting this practice will not have the desired effect.

The destruction of school property and other unruly practices have been mentioned as the cause for this step. It has been my experience, although limited, that unruliness has not been confined to the stag line nor to the gentleman's locker room.

When anyone, be he student or professor, criticizes any practice it is well for him to have substitutes at his command. The "stag line" has a definite function. It is that of providing a mixing agent for the affair. If there is no "stag line" the gentlemen dances with one young lady for the entire evening and since very few, if any, of us are married this is not especially to be desired. The "stag line" is the modern way of livening and mixing a party.

My substitute for this edict, if it is an edict, is to hold the group giving the party responsible for breakage of property. It would then be necessary for the said groups to provide their own "police force" if they so desired. If they did not desire then let them pay for the breakage.

It is "rubbing the hair the wrong way" to cram the overbearing, impolite supervision, of the university's "police force" down our throats in the name of good behavior.

—Duane Butler, '35.

Recent bonfires on the campus have been most inappropriately located. We suggest the janitors get in touch with the boy scouts.

There is a rumor that one professor actually followed the mid-term exam schedule. We haven't been able to verify it however.

We hear Prof. Stepanek shocked the Literary Society. Perhaps he misread his invitation and thought he was speaking before the Liberal club.

Dr. J. H. Rhodes, head of the department of business administration, spoke at a meeting of commercial educators at Thomas Jefferson high school November 10.

President W. E. Sealock spoke on "War and the New Deal" at Brownell Hall Friday morning, November 10.

Dr. Claude W. Stimson, associate professor of economics, talked on "The London Economic Conference" at the Omaha Social Settlement last Sunday afternoon.

Harvel Barnes, treasurer of the senior class, worked nights in the mailing room of the Omaha World-Herald last week. He usually works but two days a week.

Benny Huff, '33, Blair High school coach and former Municipal university athlete, brought his entire Blair football team to the Omaha-Western Union game Friday evening.

Russell Snaygg, a graduate student last year, is athletic director at Long Pine, Nebr., high school.

Western Union Eleven Walloped By Cards

The first non-conference victory of the year was chalked up by the Municipal university Cardinals when they romped over Western Union college of Le Mars, Iowa, 52 to 2 at League Park Friday evening, November 10.

The Cardinals scored in every period and were not extended at any time though the Doss to Welch pass attack enabled the Iowans to chalk up 11 first downs, three less than the Omahans. James Pressley's ball lunging featured for the Cardinals.

No Ping Pong Playing! Says Athletic Director

There will be no ping pong playing in the gymnasium until December 4, according to Miss Virginia Woolfolk, women's physical director. Miss Woolfolk's motive is to save the equipment, which previously has been in use the entire school year.

WORLD-HERALD URGES ACTION ON UNI. PLAN

Out of the billions that are being spent for this purpose, it is hard to think of a better investment, the article declared. The money will be spent assuring a lightening of the unemployment load. The government will recover 70 per cent of it with interest.

"And the 30 per cent will constitute no greater a grant than the government is making for innumerable other purposes, many of them far less certain to be productive of lasting benefit."

In this way, and in this way only, can the university hope to obtain a fairly adequate building in the present generation without added heavy expense to the taxpayers. The university is now paying $6,000 a year for rentals. This saving would reduce the net cost of the lease to $26,000, which can be met out of current and assured revenues.

"With favorable action on this request Omaha will be assured a university of which it may be proud, that will meet the needs of 3,000 or 4,000 students, that can provide training facilities for its public school teachers, and that, in wise and harmonious co-operation with Creighton university and the state university medical college, will make of Omaha a real center of higher education and professional training."
